

Customizable & Flexible Solutions are Our Style

We're more than one of the nation's largest benefits administrators:
We're a total benefits solution.

What is self-funding?

In a self-funded health benefits plan, the employer—and not an insurance company—is responsible for the cost of providing health benefits to employees. Stop-loss insurance helps protect the employer from large unexpected claims.

Self-funding means not paying non-refundable premiums to big carriers; employers pay for actual claims rather than anticipated ones.

Here's how the savings break down:
